

Stages of Alzheimer's disease in a person with Down Syndrome

Early Stage Alzheimer's disease in Down Syndrome

- Memory loss not always noted
- Changes in self-care skills
- Personality changes
- Apathy
- Reduced talking

Middle Stages of Alzheimer's disease in Down Syndrome

- Loss of language comprehension
- Increasing difficulty with self-care activities
- Slower mobility
- Seizures

Late Stage of Alzheimer's disease in Down Syndrome

- Inability to walk
- Inability to talk
- Incontinence
- Total care